Urgent need of a very simple web based survey application. The survey would be embedded in the web page. The user would enter his options (where do you drink coffee?) and submit them. The application would get the answers and then generate a report with his responses. The reports would be saved in DB or uploaded to FTP. The username, password, and database connection information will be provided. We will be hosting the app in a provider that will also provide web hosting. The Survey itself is simple. All of this has to happen in less than a day. We need a very quick turnaround ...is an internet marketing company that specializes in SEO.
