This is surely the first time a major newspaper has written about a suicide and linked it to murder. Someone, with an ax. It's a story that begins in northern Sweden: A man was found dead, shot in the head, in his locked apartment in the village of Svetloe, in November 2013. He had been dead for several days. The only potential suspect was his girlfriend, Malin Stroem, who owned the apartment. She left Sweden weeks before the killing, according to her account, and she told police that on the night she killed him, she was staying in Germany. The Swedish police went to Svetloe, which lies about two hours from Stockholm, and questioned Ms. Stroem. They told her that they had found a woman in Germany who was willing to testify that she had been with Ms. Stroem on the night of the killing, and that the woman had described the sound of gunfire at Ms. Stroem's apartment. (What had the woman heard?) Q: How can i get the media urls of my app in Google Play? My app is all about location based photos
