Frank Chalkley Frank Chalkley (2 January 1911 – 15 August 2002) was an English footballer who played for South Shields, Queens Park Rangers, Whitehaven, Halifax Town and Darlington. Football career Chalkley was born in Wildduck where he played for Ferryhill. In November 1928 he joined South Shields, where he made his debut on the 28th April 1930 against Wigan Borough, a game which finished 1-1. He left South Shields in February 1931, where he played 11 matches, scoring twice. From the North Eastern side he joined Queens Park Rangers in March 1931 to play alongside fellow ex-Iron full-back Cliff Rose. In 18 league and cup matches he scored four goals. He then moved on to Walter Vicenzi's Whitehaven, where he would settle. He made a name for himself there with flying attacking style, with spells at Stoke City, Notts County, Portsmouth, Blackpool and Darlington being played in his 11 league and cup matches. Personal life Chalkley was married twice. He married Yvonne Tubby on 4 October 1939, four months after the end of the Second World War. They had three children and

Sharks of Mars is a refreshingly innovative VR puzzle game. The game can be played as a single player experience, or played with friends via local or internet multiplayer. VR Story: Sniper: An explorer vessel is racing to colonize a new planet. However, as they make their way from the terraformed moon of Mars to the surface of the red planet, they find a strange anomaly in a strange planet. A probe was sent down, and it returned with the spacecraft severely damaged. Then, more anomalies show up as the explorer ship flies overhead. What are these anomalies? Trouble: The first wave of aliens from the wrecked spacecraft attack. The strange anomalies grow more prevalent and a hazardous crisis is brewing. Will the ship make it to the surface? Will the crew survive? What's going to happen when the aliens take control? IMPORTANT NOTE: The story of Sharks of Mars begins when the player accesses the game. There are no "story" parts in the game that need to be unlocked or completed to play. The game begins with an odd anomaly appearing in the sky, and the story that is presented takes place in the present. The in-game story begins once you are off-world. About the Developer: Cap The Door is an indie game studio made up of a few friends from around the world. We're a group of creative individuals from Los Angeles, California, with a shared passion for making great games. Insects live in the world all around us but we hardly ever notice them. Larger insects with special behaviours can get a huge part of our attention, but there are so many small insect that are there every day that we hardly ever notice them. We don't have to go very far from home or school for this to happen. Insects are everywhere, you just have to take a look. Insects and their natural enemies

There are many insect species around us but not all of them are insects. Termites are an animal, not an insect, so it is in the same class as spiders and lizards. Termites are scavengers, living on decaying organic matter (like the dead wood you may have seen underneath your house), and they help decompose plant material and other decaying organic matter. Termites aren't that interesting but they are useful to humans because they will help recycle our wood and keep our houses (and our food) healthy and fit for us to live in. Insects are the only kingdom that can reproduce sexually, but insects also have some other interesting facts about them. Honeybees and wasps, like flies, have two pairs of wings. They can fly but they can't cover a distance as well as insects with only one pair. So, in order to have enough energy to survive they don't fly that often. But they do fly a lot, often a couple of miles a day, and they fly for most of the year. Compared to insects, there are many different types of animals that are much bigger than insects, and that is because insects are relatively small. Ants, for example, are animals. The three ants in the picture are Red ants and are similar to cockroaches but smaller. One of the species that is known to have very large colonies is the honey bee. Honey bees are members of the family Apidae. In North America and Europe there are about seven species that are particularly important, the honey bee (Apis mellifera), the bumble bee (Bombus spp.), the cuckoo (Apis mellea ssp. cuniculii), the squash bee (Apoidea sp.), the stingless bee (Melipona sp.), the wood ant (Formica rufa), and the giant honey bee (Apis dorsata). The remaining two species found in North America are the hairy honey bee (Apis florea) and the buff-

Z72 UPGRADE TO Tiger Tank 57 or... Player : Nathan + Earth911 Alex C If any of the players already have these tanks, or if there were erotica and mud altars based off these tanks by the time this show was recorded in May 2016, feel free to mention these or anything that was part of the show at Manwhore Tank Is Crushing Fortnite, for its first episode. In other words, feel free to comment anything that's definately based off these players, whether it is provided by them or registered, as long as the source is provided. Anything by PMs can be commented for all to see as long as it is on a PM inbox. If the player doesn't want to provide an image, clear type it out for all to see. Note that clear type doesn't mean we can't see anything provided, it simply means it is easier for both viewers and skype viewers to see. If there is a large image that shouldn't be posted (or visible in public), we can talk about it if there is something secret to be discussed. In other words, I am not going to assume that you don't want a public comment because you do not use a public PM inbox unless you are specifically told that it's safe to have it on a public in box.

Yo is an adult game where you play as a 'Funny girl' and go on a journey to Dreamland with many worlds, levels and enemies. In each stage you have to make sure you do not become hit by enemies' projectiles but only by their heads! This will only remove them from the screen. The main power-up of Yo is the 'Yo' power-up. It provides you with unlimited ammo and makes you invincible. This power-up also gives you a special shoot. Another power-up is the 'Headshot' power-up that will allow you to hit the enemy's heads. The 'Bouncer' power-up is a kind of special shot that will bounce the enemy's head to a certain distance. In some levels you will also be required to collect coins or earn them by carrying out special missions. To get rid of enemies in levels, you have to jump on their heads. You can also find special abilities that will be useful in different stages. This game has many beautiful and playful environments with vibrant colors. The graphics of the game have been designed by Grzegorz Poźniak, who also worked on HITMAN 2. Also, the game was optimized for the new generation of consoles.
