The Western-born terrorist says he's ready to sacrifice his life to "detain our ummah (Muslim community) in America." The Islamic State of Iraq and al-Sham (ISIS) terrorist has announced he wants to "terrorize the unbelievers" and their allies. Ahmed Omar Abu Ali al-Harithi, who spoke in a dramatic video that was posted online two weeks ago but has gone viral, describes himself as "a Muslim" who converted to Christianity. An Afghan-born citizen of Sudan, al-Harithi was captured on October 12, 2002, when he arrived in Pakistan with the Taliban. He remained in CIA custody at Guantánamo Bay for more than five years. In January 2010, Attorney General Eric Holder said that the government would neither confirm nor deny he was a terrorist and that it would be up to the court to determine if he was. After being released, al-Harithi went to live in northwest Pakistan, "living in the forest" with a group of about eight men and women, who consisted of Afghans
