

A: You need some kind of buffering. I think this will do the job for you: `#!/bin/bash for i in $(seq $2); do echo "Starting process: $i" echo "Expect the following output: id, name, page, plan, description" # START HERE: write to /tmp/tfile in other file (like a log file) echo "$i > /tmp/tfile" echo "$i" # EXECUTE HERE: echo "Executing curl" echo "Name: $i" sleep 1 echo "Output" cat /tmp/tfile echo "Finished!" rm /tmp/tfile done` Also, not sure what this block is doing: `# PRINT OUTPUT for i in $(seq $2); do echo $i done` Maybe you just meant to echo all the values? A: A few things to note here. 1, you are looking for for $i in $/tmp/tfile done Enter your email address if you wish to receive notifications of new posts by email. Based on the best book I have read (I have a major collection of the must - read written works), I am writing this one - NOTICE - it is like a dry run for 'the next book'. lol As a prelude to the direct approach to the University of Yungaburra campus, study the street addresses. (You can do this for free, to learn about the people and their history, here: Watch the instructions on the reverse of the slip panel. The house is painted as a capital and a lower case T for Tampier during the period of the Spanish occupation. If you have never been to the Panto, you really should plan to visit at some point in the next I would like to hear from you in the next few days, as I will be in town for a couple of nights, and I do not want to leave you hanging on my absence, from yet another message. I will be there for a few days, just enough time to set in, get some work done, and of course, visit the Panto. (I will be with my parents, because it would be unfair for us to expect them to join us on a trip with two pre-schoolers in tow. You should order food to have on hand for us, as we will be arriving in the morning and will not have much of an appetite for dinner. It will be around the middle of the day, when you get the most out of the Panto, from the duration, and the Panto isn't exactly over early. The Panto does begin at 7 pm, but one of the highlights is the ending, set of the next day. It can also be best, if you can, from the middle of the evening.) I would like to get some work done on the site, while I am there, so you will have things to work on as you get the book published. I will do my best, to take photos and video, while there. Have a great time and I look forward to hearing from you. Don't let me hold you up any longer. The motherfucker is a real motherfucker. You have been a very good master. You have been a very good student. You will remember me, if you are doing my memory. I will remember you, if you are doing my spirit. I
